Benefits & Services

Health research in BC has grown significantly in recent years. A province-wide electronic health library acts as a catalyst to attract researchers and students, stimulates investment and nurtures lifelong learning. In coming years, the electronic health library will expand research in BC. e-HLbc will also help BC's rural and remote areas in the recruitment and retention of health professionals.

Health professionals using e-HLbc can:

Improve health outcomes and enhance the quality of care by:

- Accessing current health information
- Searching for evidence to apply in practice
- Identifying evidence-based guidelines

Easily access information by:

- Searching within a variety of indexes and databases
- Connecting to full-text articles online
- Accessing e-HLbc resources from anywhere in the province
